Graduate Policy Committee

Annual Report, 2022-2023

During the 2022-2023 regular academic year, the GPC met 16 times.

The GPC revised the following seven university-wide policies:

- Update to the Creative Project Master's Program policy
- Update to the University Representative Policy for Doctoral Students
- Update to the Academic Courtesy Submission Timeframe for Dissertations
- Specifying the Timing of the Enrollment for the Defense Course for Thesis and Dissertation Students
- Change to the University-Wide Foreign Language Requirement for the Master of Arts Degree
- Updates to the Manuscript Clearance Portal language
- Update to the Submission Process in the Manuscript Clearance Portal for Thesis, Treatise, and Dissertation Students who have IRB/IACUC Approvals
- Change to allow The Graduate School's Manuscript Clearance Advisors to make minor, clerical edits to a student's post-defense manuscript on behalf of the student.

Eight programs/units were reviewed as part of their QER:

- In fall 2022,
  - Music
  - Communication Science and Disorders
  - Computer Science
  - Law
- In spring 2023,
  - Psychology
  - Physics
  - Communication
  - Nursing

The GPC reviewed and approved the following proposals:

- Change to the grading policy for the Clerkship phase for the College of Medicine

Additional discussions on,

- Consent item inventory; Reflection and Discussion of Current and Future GPC Review Processes